

Prescribing Low Dose Naltrexone (LDN) for Medical Conditions other than Multiple Sclerosis

Patient Details

Name:

Address:

DOB:

GP / Specialist Details

Name:

Practice Address:

Tel:

(LDN is a 4mg dose, once daily of the opiate antagonist, naltrexone. At much higher strengths; 120mg a day, it is used in opiate addiction or overdose. At a much lower dose it has been shown to be beneficial for other medical conditions).

I am happy, as this patient's GP/specialist, that another doctor with whom this patient has also registered can prescribe LDN to them.

Signed and Dated by GP: